EPIC AMPED

The AMPED series is pioneering an entirely new technology in the Pickleball industry with its FiberFlex Fiberglass face and patent pending thicker X5 polypropylene core. The revolutionary thicker paddle core provides an unparalleled degree of power and control along with many other performance benefits!

This paddle is available in lightweight (7.3-7.7 oz) and mid weight (7.8-8.2 oz) options. It features a 5.25" handle and a very versatile, traditional paddle face.

It is favored by players with experience in racquetball, table tennis, and squash and is the best model for beginner and intermediate players.

This paddle has a familiar shape and feel, and above average play characteristics. It offers good feel and touch at the net with a fairly large sweet spot that generates decent pop on smashes and ground strokes that are hit near the paddle center. Off center hits, which we all generate on a regular basis, have a reasonably good chance of finding their way in play. The thicker "AMPED" core enhances its overall versatility and control. A quality, all-around paddle with no outstanding strengths or weaknesses, and great for players looking to improve their all-around game.
